Symbolism of the Number Forty and Forty Days in the Desert

LESSON 450

March 15, 2019

The number forty is symbolic and significant in the Life of Jesus on earth. When He was born He wanted to remain in the grotto of Bethlehem for forty days –symbol of the Divine Will, while being present in the midst of creatures, He was as though hidden and outside of the city of their souls. Jesus, wanting to repair for the forty centuries of the human will, wanted to remain outside the city for forty days, crying and moaning to call back the Divine Will into the city of souls.

Jesus also wanted Luisa imprisoned for forty years in order to manifest the Kingdom of the Divine Will.

Forty days after being born, Jesus remained in the grotto.

The Virgin Mary in the Kingdom of the Divine Will, Additional Lesson 4, Pages 159/60, After 40 days Jesus presented Himself to Simeon- the first city Jesus was calling to the Kingdom.

Volume 18, January 28, 1926, Pages 82/83,

Forty days Jesus went into the desert to call back the same Divine Will of His, which for forty centuries creatures had deserted from their midst. For forty days He wanted to remain alone and repair for forty centuries of human will during which He had not possessed the Kingdom in the midst of the human family. Right after the desert He began His public life to give the remedies and means for souls to reach the Kingdom of the Divine Will.
