Some instructions

Since time may be a factor in your cenacle, we would like to assist you. I am including the page and the paragraph that pertains to the lesson to shorten the reading, if time is an issue. Of course, if you have time it is best to read the whole chapter. But, if you don't have the time, you can just go to the page and then just read the paragraph that pertains to the lesson. I start paragraph numbering with the new paragraph of the page, e.g. #1. Where there is no paragraph listed the entire chapter pertains to the lesson. Let me know what you think. I have also cut down this lesson a little and it can easily be done in an hour and half.
